POLICY

I. Philosophy

To enable the State to be competitive in the employment market and to be able to attract and retain a competent work force, it may be necessary to allow agencies the discretionary authority to defray an employee's moving expenses. Relocation is becoming increasingly common. Policies that help ease the employee's financial, personal and psychological problems of moving family and personal property are a business necessity.

The State Board of Examiners establishes this policy to provide equitable procedures for employees of the State and to improve the economy for the citizens and taxpayers of Idaho.

The State may provide reimbursement to the employee for the sum of actual, allowed moving expenditures with "adequate accounting." The reimbursement may be up to the maximum individual reimbursement rates or the maximum aggregate moving expense reimbursements limit as prescribed in this policy. Each agency may adopt a more restrictive moving policy. All moving expense reimbursements shall comply with the terms and conditions of Section 67-5337, Idaho Code, and the State Moving Policy and Procedures as prescribed herein and any applicable agency or institutional moving policy. An employee, who does not follow these policies and personally negotiates a move, shall be liable for all moving expenses.

Current and prospective employees are cautioned that the federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 made all moving expenses taxable, and all allowable reimbursements made by the State will have tax consequences for the employee. As such, all related withholdings shall be applied to the total reimbursable amount pursuant to federal and state laws, such as income tax, social security tax and retirement. Employees are encouraged to consult with a personal tax professional for advice on the tax implications of any moving reimbursements under this policy.

II. Eligibility and Authorization

This policy allows reimbursement of moving expenses for a current or newly hired employee as follows.

A. Agency Authorization

The agency director or designated representative shall have the authority to decide whether to pay moving expenses on a case-by-case basis up to the limits set forth in this policy.

B. Current State Employee

1. Employed for a minimum of six (6) months at the current agency.
2. The appointing authority requires a change in the employee's official workstation and such move shall be in the best interest of the agency and the State.

3. All moves must meet the Time, Distance & Related to Work Test \(Appendix B\) to qualify for moving reimbursements.
4. All moves require prior written approval of the agency director or designated representative to qualify for moving expense reimbursements.

C. Newly Hired State Employee

1. New employees shall coordinate any moving expense reimbursements through the hiring agency's office of human resources or payroll.
2. When officially hired and prior to incurring any moving expenses, the new employee and hiring agency director shall sign an Employee Moving Service Agreement \(Appendix C\) stating the terms and conditions associated with receipt of any moving expense reimbursement.
3. All moves must meet the Time, Distance & Related to Work Test \(Appendix B\) to qualify for moving reimbursements.
4. The maximum aggregate moving expense reimbursement shall not exceed 10% of the employee's base salary or $15,000 whichever is less. Exceptions to the maximum moving expense reimbursement may be granted if approved in advance by the appointing authority.
5. If a newly hired employee should voluntarily resign before fulfilling a required period of employment as stated in the Employee Moving Service Agreement pursuant to this policy, the employee is liable to repay the agency at prorated-payback amounts. Payback amounts shall be determined as follows if resignation is:
 - Within one (1) year of the official beginning date of employment, the employee shall be required to pay back all (100%) of the reimbursed moving expenses.
 - More than one (1) year and up to two (2) years from the official beginning date of employment, the employee shall be required to pay back that portion of the reimbursed moving expenses that exceeded $5,000.
 - More than two (2) years and up to three (3) years from the official beginning date of employment, the employee shall be required to pay back that portion of the reimbursed moving expenses that exceeded $10,000.Amount is due in full at termination. Amount may be taken from employee's final paycheck.
6. Any exemptions to the payback agreement shall require prior approval by the State Board of Examiners.

D. Household moves

If more than one member of a household is employed by the State, moving reimbursement shall be allowed for one employee only. If both members of a household are employed by the same agency, then moving reimbursement shall be based on the employee with the greater base salary.

E. Annual Moving Expense Reports

1. Agencies shall submit a report to the Secretary of the State Board of Examiners by October 1st of each year on all moving expense reimbursements granted in the preceding fiscal year. Reports shall contain a detailed description of the expenditures by employee, pursuant to Idaho Code Section 67-5337.
2. Any moving expense reimbursements over $15,000, granted by the appointing authority, must be reported in writing to the Secretary of the State Board of Examiners within 30 days of the expenditure. Reports shall contain a detailed description of the expenditures by employee.

III. General Moving Expenses

Current and prospective employees must pay moving expenses in advance of any reimbursement and must keep adequate accounting, including original receipts, invoices or similar record in order to obtain a reimbursement. Because all reimbursements are taxable, state agencies cannot pay directly, be invoiced, or contract directly with a commercial mover or third party providing moving services. Current and prospective employees may only be reimbursed after providing adequate accounting for allowable moving expenses under this policy. General reimbursable moving expenditures shall comply with the following conditions.

A. Prohibit Use of State Equipment

Use of State equipment to move an employee or to pull a privately owned trailer or mobile home is expressly prohibited.

B. Lodging

The State may reimburse the actual and necessary daily lodging expenses during a reasonable transit period for a move plus five (5) days.

C. Per Diem (Meals and Incidental Expenses)

The State may reimburse per diem (meals and incidental expenses) as follows:

1. An individual employee is allowed the current State Travel Policy per diem rate during a reasonable transit period for a move plus five (5) days;
2. Each employee's dependent is allowed the current State Board of Examiners' Travel Policy per diem rate for the individual employee during a reasonable transit period for a move plus five (5) days; yet
3. In no event shall the employee and dependents combined daily per diem reimbursement exceed four (4) times that of an individual employee's per diem rate.

D. Transportation

The State may reimburse the employee in compliance with the current rates stated in the State Travel Policy and Procedures for the most economical mode of transportation during:

1. Househunting Trip
The State allows one (1) round-trip pre-moving (househunting) trip for up to two people at the current rates for lodging, per diem and transportation pursuant to the State Travel Policy. The househunting trip shall not exceed 5 days.
2. Actual Move
The State shall reimburse the employee for one-way transport of up to two (2) privately owned vehicles (POV) from the old to the new location by the most economical means. The agency and employee shall choose the most economical mode of transportation from the following:
 - a. The employee (or dependent) may drive the vehicle(s) and receive reimbursement at the current mileage rate for use of privately owned vehicles plus per diem and lodging pursuant to the State Travel Policy; or
 - b. The employee may hire a commercial moving company to transport the vehicle(s) and receive reimbursement for the transport charges plus travel expenses for the employee and dependents pursuant to State Travel Policy.

E. Extra Labor

The State generally will not reimburse moving expenses for extra labor—charges for doing things that would normally be done by the employee. However, under extraordinary or justified hardship circumstances, the employee may petition the State Board of Examiners requesting a waiver to be reimbursed up to a maximum amount for extra labor. The Board must grant a waiver prior to the employee accruing extra labor expenses.

IV. Commercial Mover Expenses

Eligible employees must pay moving expenses in advance of any reimbursement and must keep adequate accounting, including original receipts, invoices or similar record in order to obtain a reimbursement. Because all reimbursements are taxable, state agencies cannot pay directly, be invoiced, or contract directly with a commercial mover or third party providing moving services. Current and prospective employees may only be reimbursed after providing adequate accounting for allowable moving expenses under this policy.

A. Personal Vehicles

The State may reimburse transportation charges for up to two (2) vehicles conveyed by a commercial mover as specified in III. D. 2 of this policy.

B. Appliance Services

The State may reimburse the employee for charges to disconnect, prepare for shipment, and reconnect appliances such as washers, dryers, etc., if the commercial moving company provides these services. However, the State shall not reimburse charges for capital improvements, such as wiring or plumbing, to accommodate appliance installations. In addition, the State shall not reimburse service charges to disconnect and install televisions and radio antennas, playground equipment, hot tubs or Jacuzzis.

C. Insurance

1. The State may reimburse the employee for additional personal property insurance premiums up to $100.00 maximum above and beyond the personal property insurance normally provided by the commercial mover.
2. The State shall not reimburse the employee for personal liability insurance premiums.

V. Self-Haul Expenses

In some situations employees may choose to move their household goods, personal effects and family members themselves using their own or rented modes of conveyance. For this method of moving, the State Board of Examiners set the following reimbursable expenditures and limitations.

A. Truck Rental or Other Rental Conveyance

The State may reimburse the employee for rental charges, which include mileage rates charged by the rental company, for truck rental, towing dolly or other rental conveyance for employees to move their own household goods, personal belongings and privately owned vehicle(s).

Transport of privately owned vehicle(s) shall comply with III. D. of this policy.

B. Non-household Items

The State shall not reimburse expenses for self-hauling of animals, camper trailers, boats, other non-household items and more than two (2) privately owned vehicles as defined in III. D. of this policy.

C. Insurance

1. The State may reimburse the employee up to $100.00 maximum for personal property insurance premium to insure household goods.
2. The State shall not reimburse the employee for personal liability insurance premiums.

VI. Mobile Home Moves

The State may reimburse an employee to move a mobile home under the following circumstances:

- The mobile home is the primary residence of the employee;
- The employee's commuting distance shall have increased by at least 50 miles one way;
- The appointing authority shall give written authorization prior to the employee incurring any expenses; and

A. Commercial Mobile Home Move

1. Only a licensed and bonded mobile home transfer company in the area may be engaged to conduct the move.
2. The State may reimburse the employee for labor to unblock or block the mobile home, disconnect or reconnect utility services (electrical, sewer, water, gas, etc.) and disassemble and reassemble skirting only if a licensed contractor performs the work.
3. The State may reimburse the employee for installation materials only when city, county or state codes require specific changes to connect utilities or install the mobile home. Otherwise, no materials may be reimbursable to complete a particular installation of a mobile home.
4. The State may reimburse the employee for personal property insurance only if the commercial transfer company provides this coverage as part of the moving fee. Any additional personal property insurance over and above that supplied by the mobile home transfer company shall be purchased at the employee's expense.

B. Self-haul Mobile Home Move

Reimbursements for self-hauled mobile home moves are limited to the following:

1. The State may reimburse the employee only for mileage at the rate for a single, privately owned vehicle, as prescribed in the current State Travel Policy.
2. The State may reimburse the employee for labor to unblock or block the mobile home, disconnect or reconnect utility services (electrical, sewer, water, gas, etc.) and disassemble and reassemble skirting only if a licensed contractor performs the work.
3. The State shall not reimburse any charges for insurance.

VII. Storage Including Warehouse Handling and Delivery

All new and transferring employees are strongly encouraged to make arrangements for housing prior to the arrival of household goods at the new location. However, if under unusual circumstances prior housing cannot be arranged, the State may reimburse the employee for the following expense:

A. Storage

The State may reimburse the employee for storage expense up to a maximum of thirty (30) consecutive days after the day the items are moved from the former residence and before delivered to the new residence.

B. Delivery and Handling Charges

1. The State may reimburse the employee for delivery and handling charges for the stored household goods and personal belongings; however,
2. Total storage, handling and delivery charges shall not exceed $800.00.

VIII. Exemptions or Amendments

Periodically, circumstances may require special consideration by the Board of Examiners to grant an exemption to this policy. Likewise, the Board recognizes the value of periodic review of this policy to maintain the best benefits for the State and its employees and to ensure realistic and accountable guidelines for moving assistance statewide. As such, the Board shall adhere to the following guidelines.

A. Exemptions

An agency or employee seeking an exemption to the State Moving Policy and Procedures shall:

1. Petition the Board stating the terms of the desired change and detailing the relevant extraordinary circumstances; and
2. Secure written approval by the Board prior to altering any terms of this policy or incurring any moving expenses therefrom.

B. Amendments

The Board shall review this policy for relevance and applicability not less than once every four years. Further the Board reserves the right to amend this policy at any time.

Approved and signed by the State Board of Examiners at Boise, Idaho the February 20, 2018. This policy shall remain in effect until such time as the State Board of Examiners may choose to amend or alter this policy.

APPENDICES

Appendix A: Procedures

1. Initial Arrangements

- A. The Board of Examiners recommends that each agency secure any approvals for exemptions to the Moving Policy prior to announcing a job vacancy in which moving benefits may be offered.
- B. The appointing authority shall prescribe the methods and forms for granting authorization for moving reimbursements and for payment of moving expenses in accordance with this policy.
- C. The employee shall contact the appointing authority, the office of human resources or accounting division at the appointing agency to initiate any moving expense reimbursement arrangements. The agency director or designated representative shall give written authorization (an Employee Moving Service Agreement, Appendix D) to an employee or prospective employee prior to initiating any moving arrangements or incurring any moving expenses.

2. Processing a Request

To process a moving expense reimbursement, the employee shall comply with the following guidelines.

- A. Adhere to the policy and procedures pursuant to the State Board of Examiners' Moving Policy and any pertinent moving policy of the appointing agency.
- B. Eligible employees must submit to the appointing agency "adequate accounting" of expenditures, namely receipts, bills, vouchers or other auditable documentation to qualify for reimbursements.
- C. For further assistance, contact the State Controller's Office, Division of Statewide Payroll, Bureau of Accounting Services, at 208-334-2394.
- D. For further information on State Board of Examiners official policies and procedures, contact the Idaho State Controller's Office at 208-334-3100 or e-mail brdexam@sco.idaho.gov

Appendix B: Time, Distance & Related to Work Tests

To qualify for moving expense reimbursement by the State of Idaho, the employee shall meet the following tests. Explanations below are not all inclusive. Please contact the State Controller's Office, at 334-3100 or brdexam@sco.idaho.gov for further assistance.

1. Time Test

The employee must work full time for at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months after arriving in the general area of the new job location. Full-time employment for the State is a 40-hour workweek for twelve (12) months or an academic contract for either nine (9) or twelve (12) months.

2. Distance Test

The distance test considers only the location of the former home. The distance between the employee's new work location and the former home (Figure 1. Distance A) must be 50 miles greater than the distance between the employee's former work location and the former home (Figure 1. Distance B). The distance between a job location and the former home is the shortest of the more commonly traveled routes between them. The employee's commuting distance must have increased by at least 50 miles one way.

3. Related to Start of Work

Moving expenses qualify as closely related in time to the start of work when the moving expenses incurred within one (1) year from the date the employee started work at the new location. Moving expenses qualify as closely related in place to the start of work when the distance from the new residence to the new job location (C) is not more than the distance from your former home to the new job location (A), e.g. $C < A$ (Figure B1).

Appendix E: History of Amendments

The State Board of Examiners first adopted a policy on moving expense reimbursement August 1, 1974. The policy recognized that "in order for the State...to attract and retain professional staff, it may be necessary to defray normal intrastate and interstate moving expenses." Over the years, the policy has been rewritten and amended several times. Table 1 is a chronology of these amendments.

Table 1. Amendments to State Moving Policy
