

Inventory Management

CURRENT STATE

While a few agencies have ERPs with the inventory management functionality, most agencies are tracking inventory manually.

FUTURE STATE

All agencies will use Luma to conduct day-to-day inventory management and replenishment. Luma will have a central item master list that is shared across all agencies.

BENEFITS

- ★ Luma will give agencies the ability to automatically replenish their inventory items based on specific criteria identified by their inventory manager.
- ★ Luma will provide inventory intelligence tools. This will help inventory managers better predict their agency's needs.
- ★ Luma will have a standardized naming convention. This will allow inventory managers to see similar items used by other agencies.
